COLOMBIA CREST FINALIZES OPTION TO ACQUIRE THE VENECIA PROJECT, COLOMBIA

April 05, 2011 VANCOUVER, BC - Colombia Crest Gold Corp. ("Colombia Crest"; the "Company") (TSX-V: CLB; Pink Sheets: ECRTF; Frankfurt: EAT) is pleased to announce that, further to the Letter of Intent previously disclosed on October 4, 2010, the Company has signed the definitive agreement (the "Agreement") with Colombian Mines Corp. ("Colombian Mines") on March 30, 2011 to earn up to a 75% interest in the 1,985 hectare Venecia Property located in Antioquia, Colombia. This is the second acquisition by Colombia Crest in the gold-rich, 300-kilometre long Middle Cauca Belt that extends from AngloGold-Ashanti's 13 million ounce La Colosa gold project through the Fredonia-Venecia projects to the north of Medellín.

"The Venecia property is a high-priority acquisition that complements the Fredonia concessions which we have optioned from Grupo de Bullet," reported Hans Rasmussen, Colombia Crest President & CEO. "The geologists at Colombian Mines had done an excellent job at advancing the project and demonstrating the potential for a porphyry-style gold systems. Their preliminary data combined with our recent airborne geophysical data have confirmed that at least two high-quality porphyry-gold target areas exist within the Venecia concession."

Rock chip and soil sample data collected by Colombian Mines' geologic team identified mineralized rock outcrops that have up to 3.8 grams per tonne (g/t) gold, and up to 0.6% copper over a one metre channel width in an area of very sparse outcrop (see Colombian Mines Corporation news release of September 1, 2010). A total of 180 soil samples collected on a widely-spaced grid, confirmed that gold and copper trends from Venecia spread into the La Mina concession to the east, as well as trending north and west onto the Fredonia concessions owned by Colombia Crest. Colombia Crest plans to do geological mapping, as well as additional soil and rock chip sampling over the two anomalous areas, each of which cover almost 10 square kilometres. The results of this work will be used to generate high-quality drill targets.

The Venecia project was selected as part of Colombia Crest's project generation program which is focused on large-scale porphyry-gold properties. The property adjoins the western edge of the La Mina concession, where Bellhaven Resources has recently announced drill intercepts of 72.7 to 142.5 m of 0.7 to 1.6 grams per tonne gold. Venecia lies approximately 20 km north of AngloGold Ashanti/B2Gold's Quebradona gold – copper porphyry project, where drill intercepts of up to 380 m of 1.15 grams per tonne gold have been reported. The belt also hosts the 500 year-old Marmato mining district with NI 43-101 compliant resources currently at 9.7 million ounces of gold (see Medoro Resources Ltd website for the NI 43-101 report) and the giant La Colosa project, owned by AngloGold-Ashanti.

Paved and gravel roads provide excellent year-round access to the Property from Medellín (2½ hours) and Venecia (15 minutes). Adequate supplies of power and water are situated on and near the property, and an adequate workforce is readily available from the nearby towns of Venecia, Fredonia and Bolombolo. The primary surface use of the property is agricultural, consisting of cattle grazing, coffee plantations and citrus groves.
